I simply want to say thank you for looking into what going 100% clean energy means to us as the poor working class citizens in this county. For example, electric cars being out of juice on evacuation routes when a hurricane comes. What about the need for gas to power generators when there is no electricity? Don't try to take that away from us. Or make it so unaffordable just to reach green new deal type goals. The poor can not afford to get poorer while the rich feel good. I really wish the board would put more effort into addressing the sewer spillage issues in this county. Something that effects ALL of us and our precious unique environment NOW. Why not clean that up first before going off on these big dreams for "ready for 100". I see more apartments and condos going up everywhere I travel in Pinellas county. What is being done to accommodate the additional waste that will clog the sewers? What is being done to widen the roads for evacuation during a hurricane? Please consider the hard realities we face today first and foremost. Thank you Sherry Fiorenzo
