Subject Hines Rays Stadium Development Vote

Message

Dear Pinellas County Board of Commissioners:

I am requesting your vote to approve the Hines-Rays Stadium Development on the scheduled agenda anticipated for July 30, 2024, on behalf of the St. Petersburg Branch NAACP #5130. I am the Economic Development Chair, and I have carefully examined the overall benefits to Pinellas County and the City of St. Petersburg, including economic growth, tourism, minority business development, sustainable long-term growth, and national influence as one of only 30 cities in the United States having a Major League Baseball Team in our respective region. Please carefully review the value-added proposition of an award-winning team and community partnership that generates over 11 Million dollars in grants and 2 Million dollars in scholarships for our community, hosts graduations and special events such as conferences and conventions with a capacity to seat up to 25,000, becomes a natural disaster hub in the critical storm season and contributes to the special tax funding for the County. For these reasons and many more, we have the opportunity to be an enviable destination as the 5th Largest City in the State and remain steadfast in our economic and community development. Tropicana Field is an outdated stadium rated the worst in MLB with the lowest attendance despite an award-winning team. Let's make History and become an Award Winning Tourist Destination.

Message

I received an email from No Home Run, out of NY, stating reasons that I should not want the new Rays stadium. I DO want the stadium built, and don't think some group based in NY should be trying to sway a vote local to those of us in FL.

I'm excited about the new stadium and can't wait to see it moving forward.

Dear Pinellas Board of County Commissioners:

I am writing to express my full support for the Tampa Bay Rays and Hines to redevelop the Historic Gas Plant District. For over 40 years, The Omnia Group has served the Tampa Bay community, through our selection and development tools that measure behavioral traits and cognitive capabilities to ensure leaders are putting people in the right roles and developing them to their full potential.

I fell in love with St. Pete when I moved to the Bay area in 1994. My husband and I recently moved to the Old Southeast neighborhood and have become even more active in the community. This city has continued to grow and blossom into a cultural epicenter for the Tampa Bay region. The museums, gastronomy, nightlife, beaches, and sports have anchored the city and county, and allowed for residential development and community involvement to explode.

Redevelopment of the Historic Gas Plant District represents a once-in-a-generation opportunity to create economic growth, as well as a vibrant, thriving community and neighborhood that promises to bring together all the residents of St. Pete and Pinellas County. It is important to recognize that no perfect solution exists to satisfy all of the county's needs, nor change the past. However, the Rays-Hines proposal does offer a little of everything that has been asked for in recent years: affordable / workforce housing, office space, healthcare facilities, hospitality, cultural and entertainment venues.

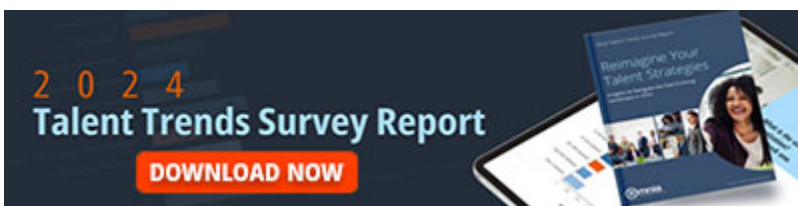

I have not seen a more complete development proposal in the state of Florida in the past decade that captures what this team has put forth. The business community fears what negative impact could come from voting down this deal. Another 30 years of parking lots and an empty Trop would be a devastating blow to the growth of St. Pete.

I implore you to vote in favor of the Rays-Hines redevelopment plan to allow St. Pete to take the next step in its evolution, and further invigorate the downtown corridor with a new haven to work, play, and unite.

Sincerely,

RE: Historic Gas Plant Redevelopment

Dear Pinellas County Commission Members:

I am writing to express my full support for the Tampa Bay Rays and Hines to redevelop the Historic Gas Plant District. For over 40 years, The Omnia Group has served the Tampa Bay community, through our selection and development tools that measure behavioral traits and cognitive capabilities to ensure leaders are putting people in the right roles and developing them to their full potential.
