Description & Comments

(What is it, any issues found, is there a financial impact to current/next FY, does this contract vary from previous FY, etc.)

This item is to update and recognize the service provider swap with helicopter ambulance service providers in Pinellas County. The two (2) providers are Med-Trans Corporation, who operate under the name "Bayflite", and Rocky Mountain Holdings LLC who operate under the name "Air Life". The current certificates expire on December 31, 2020, but this item is to recognize the change in service provider for each helicopter ambulance tradename. Per Pinellas County code, companies that provide these services are required to obtain a certificate annually to operate within Pinellas County.

The application, renewal, and inspection process to receive the COPCN does not carry a fee and will not have a fiscal impact.
