RE: 3612 E. Maritana Drive

Dear County Commissioners:

As the owner of the property located at Hotel Zamora, I would like to express my support for the dock variance being sought by Jack Rice and Kelly Lee McFrederick for the property located at 3612 E. Maritana Drive.

Jack and Kelly Lee's dock is a beautiful asset to the neighborhood. The dock's current configuration consists of a center section that contains a beautiful historic dock and boathouse dating back to 1941. To the left is a covered boat slip that was nicely designed and constructed to look original, rather than an addition, and to the right of the dock are six existing tie poles.

In 2013, the owner of 3612 E. Maritana updated the dock and installed the six tie poles on the right hand side. In 2018, the then owners of the dock at 3612 E. Maritana Drive updated the dock again to include a covered boat lift and to restore the historic dock and boathouse.

Jack and Kelly Lee's dock, as well as their property, is not a typical piece of waterfront property along the intercoastal. Jack and Kelly Lee's seawall is approximately 200 feet, with their dock positioned nicely in the center section. The current design of Jack and Kelly Lee's dock, with the historic boathouse, does not create any access or view issues for their neighbors. More importantly, the center section of the dock with the historic dock and boathouse has been a part of St. Pete Beach's history since 1941, and I would like to see it remain. Even if it's not used as a boat slip, it has historic significance and is an important piece of history that needs to remain. It adds both character and value to our neighborhood. I support Jack and Kelly's variance application to allow the dock to remain in its current configuration.

Sincerely,

Gm Keelah

The dock's current configuration consists of a center section that contains a beautiful historic dock and boathouse dating back to 1941. To the left is a covered boat slip that was nicely designed and constructed to look original, rather than an addition, and to the right of the dock are six existing tie poles.

In 2013, the owner of 3612 E. Maritana updated the dock and installed the six tie poles on the right hand side. In 2018, the then owners of the dock at 3612 E. Maritana Drive updated the dock again to include a covered boat lift and to restore the historic dock and boathouse.

Jack and Kelly Lee's dock, as well as their property, is not a typical piece of waterfront property along the intercoastal. Jack and Kelly Lee's seawall is approximately 200 feet, with their dock positioned nicely in the center section. The current design of Jack and Kelly Lee's dock, with the historic boathouse, does not create any access or view issues for their neighbors. More importantly, the center section of the dock with the historic dock and boathouse has been a part of St. Pete Beach's history since 1941, and I would like to see it remain. Even if it's not used as a boat slip, it has historic significance and is an important piece of history that needs to remain. It adds both character and value to our neighborhood. I support Jack and Kelly's variance application to allow the dock to remain in its current configuration.

Sincerely,
