"To circuitously contraband to one state, thru the medium of another". Federalist paper #12 states "to contraband to one state (water) thru the medium of another state (land)" citing strategy, illicit trade, inroads. And water by the gallon.

Hamilton's first constitution is a cover-up, a counterfeit, an inroad used to give rise to water jurisdictions ^{BIRTHED} under the 14th Amendment.

In perpetuity, The Declaration of Independence serves as preamble to Hamiltons second constitution. A water based constitution. Hamiltons first constitution is being used to "reduce us", to "eat us out of our subsistence". As our water supply has been uniformly bankrupt, captured, in Article 1 section 8. ~~VIA FED PAPER # 79~~

And as Qualification requisite (of our current constitution) us are to be placed in bondage, as enumerated, from Article 1 section 2. Seen as (labor and service) due in Article 4 section 2. Taking liberty, property, and life as its process thereof birthing water jurisdictions in the 14th Amendment.

In pursuit of this counterfeiting measure, The Declaration of Independence further states that our government, is "To Appeal to the Supreme Justice of the World for the rectitude of its intentions".

I suspect the Supreme justice of the World will tell your rectitude, You are "Totally unworthy of Heading up a civilized nation". You are perfidious, destructive, barbaric, savages of war. In actuality, You have broken all 10 commandments veiled under a falsely-faced constitution. You are not divine and provident (as declared). You are not honorable in your manifestation. What you have done here is not sacred, but evil. You are oppressive. ^{THE LIBERTY OF} Your tyranny deserves no protection of any law constituted anywhere worldwide.

Transcript of Declaration of Independence (1776)

IN CONGRESS, July 4, 1776.

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America,

When in the Course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.

That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, --That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security.--Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies, and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of Representation in the Legislature, a right inestimable to them and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the Legislative powers, incapable of Annihilation, have returned to the People at large for their exercise; the State remaining in the mean time exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.

He has endeavoured to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the Laws for Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither, and raising the conditions of new Appropriations of Lands.

He has obstructed the Administration of Justice, by refusing his Assent to Laws for establishing Judiciary powers.

He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harrass our people, and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, Standing Armies without the Consent of our legislatures.
 He has affected to render the Military independent of and superior to the Civil power.
 He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his Assent to their Acts of pretended Legislation:
 For Quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:
 For protecting them, by a mock Trial, from punishment for any Murders which they should commit on the Inhabitants of these States:
 For cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world:
 For imposing Taxes on us without our Consent:
 For depriving us in many cases, of the benefits of Trial by Jury:
 For transporting us beyond Seas to be tried for pretended offences
 For abolishing the free System of English Laws in a neighbouring Province, establishing therein an Arbitrary government, and enlarging its Boundaries so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these Colonies:
 For taking away our Charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws, and altering fundamentally the Forms of our Governments:
 For suspending our own Legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.
 He has abdicated Government here, by declaring us out of his Protection and waging War against us.

FOHAY!

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our Coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.
 He is at this time transporting large Armies of foreign Mercenaries to compleat the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of Cruelty & perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the Head of a civilized nation.
 He has constrained our fellow Citizens taken Captive on the high Seas to bear Arms against their Country, to become the executioners of their friends and Brethren, or to fall themselves by their Hands.
 He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavoured to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian Savages, whose known rule of warfare, is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions.

In every stage of these Oppressions We have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble terms: Our repeated Petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A Prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.
 Nor have We been wanting in attentions to our British brethren, We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations; which, would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. (They too) have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our Separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, Enemies in War, in Peace Friends.

would conspire to render an illicit trade between them a matter of little difficulty, and would insure frequent evasions of the commercial regulations of each other. The separate States or confederacies would be necessitated by mutual jealousy to avoid the temptations to that kind of trade by the lowness of their duties. The temper of our governments, for a long time to come, would not permit those rigorous precautions by which the European nations guard the avenues into their respective countries, as well by land as by water; and which, even there, are found insufficient obstacles to the adventurous stratagems of avarice.

USING THE MEDIUM OF ONE TO ACCESS ANOTHER

In France, there is an army of patrols (as they are called) constantly employed to secure their fiscal regulations against the inroads of the dealers in contraband trade. Mr. Neckar computes the number of these patrols at upwards of twenty thousand. This shows the immense difficulty in preventing that species of traffic, where there is an inland communication, and places in a strong light the disadvantages with which the collection of duties in this country would be encumbered, if by disunion the States should be placed in a situation, with respect to each other, resembling that of France with respect to her neighbors. The arbitrary and vexatious powers with which the patrols are necessarily armed, would be intolerable in a free country.

If, on the contrary, there be but one government pervading all the States, there will be, as to the principal part of our commerce, but ONE SIDE to guard the ATLANTIC COAST, vessels arriving directly from foreign countries, laden with valuable cargoes, would rarely choose to hazard themselves to the complicated and critical perils which would attend attempts to unlade prior to their coming into port. They would have to dread both the dangers of the coast, and of detection as well after as before their arrival at the places of their final destination. An ordinary degree of vigilance would be competent to the prevention of any material infractions upon the rights of the revenue. A few armed vessels, judiciously stationed at the entrances of our ports, might at a small expense be made useful sentinels of the laws. And the government having the same interest to provide against violations everywhere, the co-operation of its measures in each State would have a powerful tendency to render them effectual. Here also we should preserve by Union, an advantage which nature holds out to us, and which would be relinquished by separation. The United States lie at a great distance from Europe, and at a considerable distance from all other places with which they would have extensive connections of foreign trade. The passage from them to us, in a few hours, or in a single night, as between the coasts of France and Britain, and of other neighboring nations, would be impracticable. This is a prodigious security against a direct contraband with foreign countries; but a circuitous contraband to one State, through the medium of another, would be both easy and safe. The difference between a direct importation from abroad, and an indirect importation through the channel of a neighboring State, in small parcels according to time and opportunity, with the additional facilities of inland communication, must be palpable to every man of discernment.

It is therefore evident, that one national government would be able, at much less expense, to extend the duties on imports beyond comparison, further than would be practicable to the States separately, or to any partial confederacies. Hitherto, I believe, it may safely be asserted, that these duties have not upon an average exceeded in any State three per cent. In France they are estimated to be about fifteen per cent., and in Britain they exceed this proportion. There seems to be nothing to hinder their being increased in this country to at least treble their present amount. The single article of ardent spirits, under federal regulation, might be made to furnish a considerable revenue. Upon a ratio to the importation into this State, the whole quantity imported into the United States may be estimated at four millions of gallons, which, at a shilling per gallon, would produce two hundred thousand pounds. That article would well bear this rate of duty; and if it should tend to diminish the consumption of it, such an effect would be equally favorable to the agriculture, to the economy, to

National Petition for the Reactivation of the US Civilian Conservation Corps

We urge you as our US Representative to co-sponsor HR 4318 the 21st Century Civilian Conservation Corps Act and reactivate the United States Civilian Conservation Corps. This faultless program would provide unemployed young adult citizens and war veterans with a shovel ready green job training experience for 6 months to two years on our public lands and waterways. They would perform constructive work for communities across the nation with a living wage. Citizens would conserve our natural resources, fight rapid climate change, do infrastructure repair and help in disaster relief. We would then enable a future competent and reliable workforce and leaders and more important than material gains will be the moral and spiritual value of their work.

The National Petition to re-establish the US Civilian Conservation Corps

Dear Representative DAVID JOLLY State FL District 13

We the undersigned Citizens of the United States URGE our US Representative to co-sponsor the 21st Century Civilian Conservation Corps Act (HR188) to re-establish the United States Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC). The CCC was the largest and most lasting environmental effort in US History and demonstrated that no conflict existed between the preservation of the environment and the creation of jobs. Bring back the CCC as a National Service and put America to work on jobs that really need to be done, saving our environment and building national assets for future generations.

We the undersigned Citizens of the United States urge you as our United States Representative to be a CO-SPONSOR for a beneficial non-partisan bill - HR 1966 the 21st Century Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) Act to re-establish the CCC. The CCC as an all public sector program is regarded as the most popular government program in U.S. History, and the government's most lasting environmental effort as well. The CCC demonstrated that there was absolutely no conflict between the preservation of the environment and the creation of jobs! HR 1966 will be a wise investment in our valuable Human and Natural Resource Capital. As a National Service, the CCC program will provide professional career opportunities and annually give over 300,000 more military aged Citizens that are unemployed and unskilled and a smaller number of older Veterans and Native Americans opportunity in vocational training and conserving and developing the country's natural resources! The Honorable Bill Nelson
716 Hart Senate Office Building
Washington, DC 20510

Dear Senator Nelson:

I am writing to request your support of the 21st Century Civilian Conservation Corps Act.

The 21st Century Civilian Conservation Corps Act is a job creation program that reestablishes a Civil Conservation Corp that puts to work unemployed and underemployed civilians to advance useful public works projects aimed at safeguarding natural resources and developing new transportation and infrastructure.

Your support for the 21st Century Civilian Conservation Corps Act will reestablish the United States Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC), which from 1933 to 1942 was the biggest and most successful federal work program in history, and the government's most lasting environmental effort as well. The CCC has demonstrated that there is no conflict between preservation of the environment and the creation of jobs. The CCC will now include women and veterans, providing work, remedial and vocational training for the unemployed and unskilled through conserving and developing the country's natural resources. This public sector employment opportunity will provide job training and job experience that will benefit future generations.

This legislation would enhance many opportunities for those unemployed and under employed.

Dear Congresswoman Lujan-Grisham,

Americans for Indian Opportunity (AIO) urges you to support H.R. 1966 to reestablish the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC). Growing up in Southwestern Oklahoma during the Great Depression, I witnessed the good works of the CCC and several of my uncles were able to provide for their families because of the steady employment during a time of very limited opportunities. AIO recognizes the benefit of a new CCC to the country, particularly, Native American rural communities who continue to be challenged by a lack of basic infrastructure and high unemployment, particularly among Native youth.

The poverty rate for American Indians and Alaska Natives is 23% --nearly one-third of Native American youth live in poverty. Native American unemployment has been higher than 11.5% for more than ten years. Native youth suicides are at a crisis epidemic level as Native teens are two and one-half times more likely to kill themselves than their non-Indian counterparts.

The CCC could provide real opportunity for reservation youth by giving them a chance to contribute to their communities and neighbors, will bolster their confidence and make them more employable. Rural Indian communities are often in proximity to national parks and forests and are located in the nation's agricultural heartland.

Your support of H.R. 1966 and a new Civilian Conservation Corps will directly benefit American Indians and Alaska Natives by providing employment, a sense of pride and improved skills set. Native American CCC workers would be providing a tremendous contribution to the health of the land, would protect and maintain our nation's resources and provide useful public works.

The CCC would support Native Americans and the whole United States, providing gainful employment to the many unemployed and underemployed citizens. I appreciate your attention to this matter. If you have questions or I can provide more information, please do not hesitate to contact me. Thank you.

Warmest regards,

LaDonna Harris
President

League of United Latin American Citizens

Resolution in Support for U.S. House of Representative Bill H.R. 1966

Whereas, H.R. 1966, authorizes the President to establish the modern 21st Century Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC), as a means of providing gainful employment to unemployed and underemployed citizens of the United States, through the performance of useful public work, vocational training, and for other purposes; and

Whereas, unemployment among the youth in the United States can range as high as 50% among Hispanics and Blacks, while it is currently 5% among all Americans; and

Whereas, the CCC national program was successful in the 1930s and 1940s by working on National Park Service and Public Works Projects in employing hundreds of thousands of young men and women, providing training, discipline, healthy outdoor activity, provided outlets and travel for urban young people; and

Whereas, the National Park Service currently has billions of dollars in projects requiring immediate work and attention, but has no budget to get the work done. We have an opportunity to employ some 300,000 unemployed Armed Forces veterans (including Reserve members), unemployed U.S. citizens in the construction, maintenance, and reforestation works. It is a wise investment in our valuable Human and Natural Resource Capital. There is an excellent fit for the proven CCC program to contribute to employing healthy but idle youth, and accomplishing critical projects such as forest fire prevention, flood control, soil erosion, paths and trails construction; for our beloved National Park Service; and

Whereas, our Hispanic population is growing fast, over 20% of the population in many cities.
