This comment pertains to the Pinellas county waste water master plan project which my company Strategist Project Support Services – a certified small businesses with Pinellas County, was constructively misled as to its participation on the project. We have been in conversation with Wade Trim from the time of submission and throughout the negotiations, and have prepared ourselves accordingly to participate on the project. We were recently informed by a representative of Wade Trim that Wade Trim will be performing all of the work and house due to budgetary issues with the county. It is our position that Wade Trim's 'all in-house performance operation' violates the spirit of the SBE programs objectives while adversely impacting our company as a certified participant. We mistakenly relied on conversations with white trim, and missed the opportunity for a timely comment on the appropriate agenda item before the commission. Consequently, we do not know when this contract agreement was approved as we had contemplated being involved, and trusting our partner.
