RE: Increasing your support for green spaces throughout the county Today in Pinellas County there are four different green spaces fighting to remain undeveloped. Listed in the Values of the Pinellas County Commission, it states: "We believe it is our responsibility to improve the overall quality of life through the management and preservation of the natural and built environment." We agree. Your strategic plan 3.2 states a responsibility to: "Preserve and manage environmental lands, beaches, parks and historical assets." We agree with this also. The green spaces of the Douglas Property, W K Preserve, the Landings and the Tides all require your immediate attention and action to preserve the few large spaces of open land left in the county—left for our children and grandchildren--precious, rare green space. We encourage the County Commission to increase funding and planning to preserve these green spaces. Thank you.
