NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Board of County Commissioners of Pinellas County, Florida in regular meeting duly assembled this ____ day of _____ 2024, that:

SECTION 1. Chapter 134 of the Pinellas County Land Development Code is hereby amended as set forth below. This ordinance does not repeal and replace Chapter 134. The only section(s) of Chapter 134 being amended are those with revisions reflected herein. Sections of Chapter 134 not included herein remain in full force and effect.

Chapter 134

Sec. 134-14. Quasi-judicial proceedings.

- (a) Purpose and intent. The board of county commissioners ("board") has prepared these rules to encourage public participation during quasi-judicial hearings in a manner consistent with the requirements of law. The board intends that these hearings be informal and not intimidating for the public, while recognizing the need for certain structure to maintain orderly hearings. Notwithstanding the procedures established in this section, these procedures may be modified by the hearing body utilizing said procedures to effectuate the effective presentation of evidence.
- (b) Applicability of these procedures.
 - (1) Land Development Code. These procedures apply to all quasi-judicial proceedings held to interpret, implement, and enforce the Land Development Code by all hearing bodies, as further defined herein. Examples of quasi-judicial proceedings include but are not limited to: site specific rezonings, variances, Type 2 and 3 uses, and administrative appeals.
 - (2) Covered decision makers. These procedures shall be utilized by the board of county commissioners, the local planning agency, and the board of adjustment and appeals ("hearing bodies").
 - (3) Applicants. Applicants shall be limited to the property owner(s) or their representatives, as further detailed herein.
 - (4) Legislative proceedings. Utilization of these procedures by a hearing body when sitting in a legislative capacity does not change the character of the legislative proceeding nor does it confer any additional rights or remedies upon any person or party.
- (c) Pre-hearing submittals.
 - (1) Application. The applicant shall submit an application as provided in the procedures established for the individual decision being requested.
 - (2) Staff recommendation. To the extent that the applicable procedure requires a staff review and written recommendation to be presented to the hearing body, that written recommendation shall be completed and available for public inspection no less than one week prior to the hearing.

- (3) Supplemental material. No later than one week prior to the scheduled public hearing, any applicant, proponent, or opponent may submit any written arguments, evidence, explanations, studies, reports, petitions or other documentation for consideration by the hearing body in support of or in opposition of the application. Unless an oversized exhibit is absolutely essential, documentary paper or photographic exhibits should not exceed 24 inches by 36 inches and, if mounted on a backboard, shall be removable therefrom. All non-digital documentary evidence should be capable of being folded and filed. If an exhibit is presented, it becomes part of the record and will not be returned. No new materials will be accepted at the hearing as of right; such material shall only be accepted in the hearing body's sole discretion.
- (4) Applicant representation. Applicants may represent themselves, or choose to be represented by an attorney or non-attorney representative. In the case of a non-attorney representative, and if the applicant will not appear at the hearing, the applicant shall furnish a properly executed power of attorney or other such document authorizing such representation.
- (5) Record. The applicant's application, staff recommendation, and properly filed supplemental material shall automatically become part of the record. In addition, properly sworn testimony during the hearing shall also automatically become part of the record. Additional materials shall only become part of the record in the hearing body's sole discretion in accordance with the terms herein.

(d) Public hearing.

- (1) Generally. It is the expectation that the hearing will be as informal and non-intimidating as possible. Each person who addresses the hearing body shall utilize the speaker's lectern, if available, to allow his or her comments to be recorded and shall provide their name, address and whether they will speak on behalf of others.
 - a. Recording. All quasi-judicial hearings shall be recorded. Any party who wishes to appeal a decision shall be solely responsible for ensuring a verbatim transcript of the proceedings is created for appeal.
 - b. Time limitation guidelines. It is expected that presentations will be organized and efficiently presented. Persons in the following status should complete their presentation or comments within the prescribed time limits, unless an extension is granted by the hearing body upon a showing of good cause:
 1. Staff should introduce and present the case in 20 minutes, including their response and summary.
 2. The applicant should present his or her entire case in 20 minutes, including rebuttal.
 3. Persons who have been authorized to represent an organization with five or more members or a group of five or more persons should limit their presentation to ten minutes. Others in the organization or group shall waive their time. The five represented individuals must be present and waive their time.

4. All other persons may speak up to a total of three minutes each.
- c. Registration of proponents or opponents. To the extent possible, persons who desire to make presentations as proponents or opponents of an item should, prior to the meeting at which such item is to be heard, register with the hearing body's clerk on the forms provided. Five or more persons deemed by the hearing body to be associated together or otherwise represent a common point of view on an item may be requested to select a spokesperson.
 - d. Organizational or group speakers. Prior to presenting his/her case, any person representing an organization or other persons shall indicate who he/she represents and how he/she received authorization to speak on behalf of such organization or group of persons. The hearing body may make further inquiry into the represented authority of such person if necessary.
 - e. Speaker's qualifications. Persons speaking on issues requiring educational, occupational and other experience should identify those qualifications. The hearing body may further inquire as to such qualifications.
 - f. Restrictions on testimony or presentation of evidence. At any proceeding, the chair, or administrative official leading the proceedings, unless overruled by majority of the hearing body members present, may restrict or terminate presentations which in the chairman's judgment are irrelevant, frivolous, unduly repetitive, inflammatory, or otherwise out of order.
 - g. Ex parte communications. Individuals should not contact the person or entity responsible for issuing or recommending the final development order(s) about issues coming before said official or hearing body, and said officials and hearing bodies shall avoid such communication to the extent practicable. If such communication inadvertently or unavoidably takes place, such conversations should be disclosed and made part of the record before or during the hearing. Such disclosure shall include the subject of the communication and the identity of the person, group, or entity with whom the communication took place.
- (2) Order and subject of appearance. The public hearing shall be conducted in the following manner:
- a. Disclosure of any ex-parte communications by hearing body members.
 - b. Initial presentation by staff. County staff shall make the initial presentation to the hearing body regarding any item under consideration. Affected parties may ask questions of, or seek clarification from, staff by request through the chair after staff's initial presentation.

- c. Applicant's presentation. After staff presentation, the applicant(s) shall be allowed to present their case.
 - d. Proponent's presentation. After presentation by the applicant(s), proponents of the item or request shall be allowed to speak in support of the case.
 - e. Opponent's presentation. After the hearing body and staff inquiry of the proponents, opponents of an item or request shall be allowed to speak.
 - f. Applicants' rebuttal presentation. The applicant shall be allowed an opportunity for rebuttal. Rebuttal shall only address previous testimony. Proponents, opponents or staff who believe that the rebuttal presentation includes an error of fact may ask for and may be allowed an opportunity to point out such error of fact.
 - g. Inquiry by hearing body. The hearing body shall have an opportunity to comment or ask questions of or seek clarification from staff, applicant(s), proponent(s), or opponent(s) at any time during the proceedings. After the respective parties' presentations, affected parties may ask questions of or seek clarification from the applicant(s), proponent(s), or opponent(s) by request through the chair.
 - h. Closing of public comment. For those matters in which public comment is heard by the hearing body, the chair shall close the public comment portion of the meeting on that item upon the conclusion of the last appropriate speaker's comments. No additional public comments shall be allowed, except in specific response to questions by members of the hearing body or in said body's sole discretion.
- (3) Waiver of hearing. The applicant may waive the right to a full hearing if it agrees with the staff recommendation and no one from the audience wishes to speak for or against the application.
- (4) Continued public hearings.
- a. Continuance requested by the applicant. The applicant shall have one opportunity to continue his or her case to a future scheduled meeting date for up to 70 days, by submitting a notification to continue in writing to the county department responsible for scheduling the hearing prior to formal publication of the hearing. If the applicant notifies said department after publication, requests a continuance for more than 70 days, or seeks to continue the case after the case has previously been continued, such a request shall be decided by the responsible hearing body. All costs associated with a continuance, including but not limited to re-advertising, shall be borne by the applicant.
 - b. Opportunity to be heard. In any matter where it is known that a scheduled public hearing will be continued to a future date, public comment may be limited to those persons who state that they believe they cannot be available to speak on the date to which the public hearing is being continued. Such persons may then make their comments at the current meeting, provided, that upon making their comments, such persons shall waive the right to repeat or make substantially the same presentation at any subsequent meeting on the same subject. This waiver shall not preclude such persons from making different presentations based on new information or from offering response to other persons' presentation, if otherwise allowable, at any subsequent meeting.

- (e) Burden of proof. The applicant has the burden of producing competent substantial evidence for the hearing body to make an informed decision and conclude that the applicable standards for the case at hand have been met. Failure to submit sufficient timely evidence or testimony, or address the relevant criteria on which the application is based, may be a sufficient basis for the hearing body to deny the application.
- (f) Administrative appeals.
 - (1) Scope of review. Administrative appeals shall be held by the board of adjustment and appeals or board of county commissioners in conformity with the provisions herein, and shall be reviewed de novo.
 - (2) Right of appeal. Appeals may be filed by any affected party aggrieved by the application of the Land Development Code or the comprehensive plan by county staff, or aggrieved by an action that provides for an appeal to the board of county commissioners ("appellant").
 - (3) Procedure for appeal. An appeal shall be filed in writing with the applicable department responsible for issuing the decision, or administering the application, for which a decision has been rendered, within 15 calendar days after rendition of the final development order or determination at issue. The date of rendition shall be the date at which a written, dated instrument expressing such decision is executed by the administrative official or original hearing body.
 - (4) Filing fee. Each appeal shall be accompanied by a filing fee, as determined by the annual fee schedule adopted by the board of county commissioners.
 - (5) Substance of appeal. At a minimum, the appeal shall indicate the following:
 - a. The section(s) of the Pinellas County Land Development Code that the appellant has a reasonable basis to believe were not adhered to regarding the final decision on appeal;
 - b. How the appellant has been aggrieved by such noncompliance, which must include specific reasons beyond generalizations, and must be different in nature and scope to the general public or neighborhood at large; and
 - c. Whether a pre-hearing conference is requested.

- (6) Denial and consolidation. The hearing body hearing the appeal shall have the right to deny the appeal if the appeal does not adhere to the requirements herein. Said hearing body also reserves the right to consolidate multiple appeals of the same decision, or multiple appeals of different decisions affecting the same project, when appropriate.
- (7) Effect of appeal. Upon filing of an appeal, all work on the premises associated with the final development order shall be at the sole risk and cost of the applicant.
- (8) Finality of decision. No new application for an identical request on the same parcel shall be accepted for consideration within a period of six months following a final decision on an administrative appeal. An applicant may request a waiver to this provision and the responsible hearing body may waive this provision for good cause.
- (9) Judicial review of decisions. Any affected person may appeal a final adverse administrative decision to circuit court, provided that the aggrieved party has first filed an administrative appeal, was denied relief, and has filed an appeal to circuit court within 30 calendar days of the final adverse decision.
- (10) Pre-hearing conference. The board of adjustment and appeals or board of county commissioners may require a preliminary hearing in its sole discretion. If the hearing body determines a prehearing conference is needed, it shall issue a notice of prehearing conference outlining the specific requirements of the hearing.
 - a. Minimum requirements. At a minimum, the notice shall require each party to furnish the following items in an effort to narrow the issues on appeal:
 1. A list of documentary evidence and exhibits that will be offered during the hearing and brief statement explaining their purpose;
 2. A list of all possible witnesses, which shall include the witnesses' name, address, phone number, and a brief summary of the substance of each witness' proposed testimony;
 3. The parties must bring copies of any documents or exhibits they intend to use at the hearing, to be placed in the record for the hearing.
 - b. Failure to comply. Failure to comply with the terms of the notice may result in the prehearing conference to be continued and/or the non-complying party's witnesses and/or exhibits being disallowed or such other relief as the hearing body may determine.
 - c. Failure to appear. Failure to appear at the scheduled pre-hearing conference may constitute grounds for the hearing body to find that the appellant has withdrawn the appeal.

Sec. 134-156. Definitions.

Board of adjustment and appeals (BAA) shall be as defined in chapter 138, division 2.

Commencement of development means the onset of construction, such that actual, on-site grade alterations or other material physical changes have been made to the appearance of land in conformance with:

- (1) An approved final site plan;
- (2) A habitat management permit that is consistent with an associated site plan; or
- (3) Final construction plans approved by the county.

Continue in good faith means that all necessary and required development orders or permits have been applied for prior to the expiration of any previously received county development order, expressly including any development agreement, such that development and construction continue in a reasonably prudent, commercial manner that is of a real, actual and genuine nature as opposed to a sham or deception, and which meets the standards for "good faith" outlined in section 134-160. A rebuttable presumption of not having continued in good faith shall arise from the lapse, expiration or abandonment of any development order or permit issued by the county, or from any other voluntary act of the claimant which has the same effect.

Development review committee (DRC) shall be as defined in section 138-64.

Divest means to abrogate or revoke preexisting vested rights.

Vested right means any property right that would attach to and run with a described property that authorizes the development and use of that property; and includes, but is not limited to: a special exemption status provided for in section 134-86; an authorized land use designation or density or intensity of development; and any other specifically identified condition of development or mitigation.

Vested right determination means those administrative procedures defined in this article used for reviewing a landowner's or developer's request for a remedy under this article that would recognize and define vested rights.

Sec. 134-157. Legislative findings and intent.

The board of county commissioners finds and declares that:

- (1) The provisions of F.S. § 163.3161 et seq. establish the local government comprehensive planning and land development regulation act (referred to in this article as "the act").
- (2) The provisions of F.S. § 163.3202(2)(g) provide that counties shall have the power and responsibility to plan comprehensively for their future development and growth, including the adoption and implementation of appropriate land development regulations which are necessary or desirable to implement a comprehensive plan.
- (3) The county adopted its Comprehensive Plan (the "county plan") on August 8, 1989, through the adoption of Ordinance No. 89-32.

- (4) The county plan establishes the minimum requirements necessary to maintain, through orderly growth and development, the character and stability of present and future land use and development in the unincorporated areas of the county.
- (5) The provisions of F.S. § 163.3167 provide for statutory vesting of certain development rights as they may further be defined by local government.
- (6) Section 134-82(b) provides that the board of county commissioners retains the power and authority to enact ordinances, rules and regulations that are more restrictive than those originally adopted in the county plan.
- (7) Section 134-82(c) provides that nothing in the county plan or its subsequent land use regulations shall be construed or applied so as to result in the abrogation of validly existing vested rights.
- (8) Section 134-85(b) provides that the board of county commissioners shall establish administrative procedures which any party challenging denial of a development order or a development permit as an abrogation of vested rights must exhaust before any action on a request for development is deemed final by any court or quasi-judicial proceeding.
- (9) Section 134-86(c)(2)b. provides that a development order or right may be determined to be vested through any administrative procedure subsequently established by the board of county commissioners.
- (10) It is necessary and desirable that administrative determinations of vested property rights be made so as to ensure reasonable certainty, stability, and fairness in the land use planning process in order to stimulate economic growth, secure the reasonable investment-backed expectations of landowners, and foster cooperation between the public and private sectors with respect to growth management.
- (11) The establishment of an administrative determination procedure will promote the goals of the county plan in a manner which is consistent with section 2 of article I of the state constitution guaranteeing all natural persons the inalienable right to acquire, possess and protect property.
- (12) It is the specific intent of the board of county commissioners that no provision of this article be interpreted so as to abrogate validly existing vested private property rights which would exist under the United States or state constitutions.
- (13) It is the specific intent of the board of county commissioners that no administrative determination made under this article result in either a temporary or permanent taking of private property without just or full compensation under the United States or the state constitutions.

- (14) The board of county commissioners specifically intends that it shall be the duty and responsibility of the party alleging vested rights to affirmatively demonstrate the legal requisites of the rights alleged.
- (15) It is the board of county commissioners' specific intention that the procedures provided for in this article not be utilized routinely or frivolously, but rather, only in those extreme circumstances where a potential denial of private property or development rights would otherwise result.
- (16) The delays attendant the full hearing process may be deemed unnecessary for applications for vested rights which are of such a limited nature and are based on clear provisions of a development order.
- (17) In order to effectively administer a program of vested rights applications, it is often necessary to fashion variable forms of relief, consistent with the equitable nature of vested rights decisions. Thus it is the intent of the board of county commissioners for the County Administrator or his or her designee, acting in his or her designated capacity on vested rights matters, to have the authority to fashion the relief necessary to protect the legitimate vested rights of property owners while at the same time protecting the rights of the citizens of the county.
- (18) Both the purpose and intent of the various land development regulations, the provisions of the comprehensive plan and the statutory and case law governing vested rights provide the County Administrator or his or her designee with ample guidance in exercising his or her authority under this article.

Sec. 134-160. Procedures for vested rights determinations.

(a) Applications for vested rights determinations.

- (1) All applicants for vested rights determinations must file an application for a vested rights determination with the county administrator through the county Building and Development Review Services department. Vested rights claims arising under section 134-86(c)(2)b. Must be filed by June 30, 2019, unless the filing date therefor has been otherwise extended.
- (2) A vested rights application must meet the requirements of this section, and each application should include any information the applicant considers necessary to demonstrate compliance with the standards outlined in this section. As such, applications may contain attachments, appendices or exhibits that substantiate those facts supporting the applicant's claim.
- (3) A typical application package might contain affidavits, drawings, contracts, recordings, or any other form of documentation or information that may apply, including, but not limited to:

- a. The transcript or record of any previous hearing where action on the challenged development order or permit was taken.
 - b. Any donations or dedications of real property or any other property interest made to the county for the following purposes:
 - 1. Roads or other transportation facilities;
 - 2. Access (ingress/egress) or rights-of-way;
 - 3. Drainage easements;
 - 4. Parks or recreation/open space;
 - 5. Retention/detention areas;
 - 6. Conservation areas;
 - 7. Any other purpose consistent with the provision of services for any element of the county plan; which are either on- or off-site with respect to the property involved in the vested rights determination.
 - c. Other development orders or development permits issued by the county with respect to the property involved in the vested rights determination, and any related federal, state or regional permits.
 - d. The construction of roads, sidewalks, stormwater detention/retention or drainage facilities, sewer or water facilities, parks, etc., which are either on- or off-site, especially where such construction is in excess of capacity for the development seeking a vested rights determination.
 - e. Expenditures of funds for planning, engineering, environmental, and other consultants or projects, including site preparation or grading.
 - f. Construction of actual buildings in accordance with an existing or prior development order or development permit issued by the county.
 - g. Expenditure of funds for land acquisition made specifically for the proposed development.
- (4) The information in subsection (a)(3) of this section should be limited, however, to those actions by the applicant (or his predecessor) made in reasonable reliance upon an affirmative act or approval of the county which formally authorized, accepted, or approved a course of development on the land in question. To that extent, the applicant is encouraged to so specifically identify the acts relied upon.
- (5) Additionally, the applicant should consider submitting information which:

- a. Demonstrates that the applicant has acted in good faith and without knowledge that subsequent changes to applicable ordinances, resolutions, or regulations might affect his development expectations. In establishing "good faith," the applicant should consider submitting information which affirmatively states that the applicant:
 1. Has not waived, abandoned, or substantially deviated from prior related county development approvals;
 2. Has not, by act or failure to act, consented or assented to changes in prior county development approvals;
 3. Has, at all times relevant, conformed with the applicable laws, rules, and regulations of the state and the county;
 4. Is not otherwise estopped from claiming vested rights through acts or omissions which arose in the development or marketing of preexisting county development approvals, upon which others have relied to their detriment.
 - b. Details the specific ordinance, resolution, regulation or comprehensive plan provision that the applicant alleges should not apply because of the vested rights claimed.
- (b) Review and standards for vested rights determinations.
- (1) Within ten working days of receipt of an application for a vested rights determination, the county administrator or his designee shall determine whether the application received is complete. If the application is deficient, then the applicant shall be notified in writing of the deficiencies.
 - (2) Once an application is complete, or the applicant has informed the county administrator or his designee that no further information is available, the application shall be reviewed by the County Administrator or his or her designee.
 - (3) Within 30 working days of the application submittal, the County Administrator or his or her designee shall make and report findings of fact and conclusive decisions based upon the record presented and consideration of the following standards:
 - a. An affirmative determination of vested rights may be made only upon sufficient demonstration by the applicant that:
 1. A legally valid, unexpired act or omission of the county had approved or authorized the proposed development which is the subject of the determination;

2. Substantial expenditures or obligations were made or incurred in developing the subject proposal; "substantial" shall be considered relative to the total estimated cost of the project/phase being reviewed, and the applicant's typical or ordinary business practice;
 3. The expenditures and obligations made in subsection (b)(4)a.2, above were incurred in good-faith reliance on the acts or omissions of subsection (b)(4)a.1, above;
 4. A denial of the application, destroying those rights which would otherwise be acquired, would be highly unfair and unjust because there are no other reasonable uses permitted for the expenditures and obligations of subsection (b)(4)a.2, above, under the land development regulations now in effect; to demonstrate that denial would be highly unfair and unjust, the applicant must show that the expenses or obligations incurred are unique to the proposed development such that a reasonable return on these expenses or obligations would have been made under preexisting regulations, but could not be made under the regulations now in effect; and that
 5. The applicant was without actual or record knowledge of the changes made in the regulations prior to the expenditures and obligations of subsection (b)(4)a.2, above, unless considerable doubt can be shown to have existed about the actual adoption of the regulation, or about the actual prohibition of the proposed development.
- b. A negative determination would not be highly unfair or unjust if substantial, competent evidence in the record demonstrates that construction has not commenced or that the expenditures and obligations incurred are not unique to the otherwise approved development or that the public cost outweighs the private injury or that the expenses or obligations were incurred with notice of a change in regulations or that the applicant's development can make a reasonable return on the expenditures and obligations incurred under the present regulation.
- c. In addition to the factors in subsections (b)(4)a. and (b)(4)b. of this section, the County Administrator or his or her designee should also consider the following factors when it appears from the plans or documents submitted by an applicant that the proposed project would or reasonably could be completed in discrete phases:
- i. The extent to which the plans or documents submitted are more conceptual master plans or final site plan/construction drawings derived from detailed surveying, engineering or architectural work;
 - ii. The extent to which infrastructure, such as streets, sidewalks, utilities or other facilities, has been constructed for the entire project; and
 - iii. The extent to which infrastructure already constructed would be unsuitable for use as part of any uncompleted phases if such phases were built out in conformity with existing regulations; "unsuitable" should be considered relative to the applicant's investment loss resulting from the manner, location, or scale of constructed infrastructure which could not be utilized due to the change in regulations.

(c) Forms of relief available. The three forms of relief deemed appropriate for applications are special exemptions, conditional relief, and denial without prejudice, and are described as follows:

- (1) Special exemptions. With respect to those issues which can be reasonably characterized as being clearly, completely and specifically documented provisions of a final local development order, a form of special exemption, as referenced in article III of this chapter, may be issued to the extent that such a vesting would prevent the limitation or modification of the applicant's right to complete its development. An applicant may be said to have vested rights in the provisions of its development order to the extent that no non-environmental or health related land development provisions may deprive him of those rights. This form of special exemption may be broad-based and complete, depending upon the terms of the development order and the relief necessary to protect any rights under the development order.
- (2) Conditional relief. The comprehensive plan prohibits special exemption status against the application of environmental and health related land development regulations. The form of relief available, rather than a blanket special exemption, should be reviewed on a factually intensive basis for the possibility that conditional variances or other forms of conditional relief may be available. Any such relief must be analyzed to determine if the conditions under which it is granted are consistent with the purpose and intent of the various land development regulations, the provisions of the comprehensive plan and the statutory and case law governing vested rights. Conditions may be initial, after satisfaction of which the right becomes vested, or may be ongoing. Conditional variances will address the appropriateness of relief, allowing the county to fashion that form of relief necessary to equitably address the legitimate concerns of the applicant while at the same time protecting the legitimate interests of the citizens of the county.
- (3) Denial without prejudice. The applicant may reserve or be entitled to reserve the right to address other land development regulations at such time as they become an issue. Such a reservation of rights is an appropriate mechanism to address future questions that may arise from the applicant's development status.

(d) Appeal of vested rights determinations.

- (1) Any applicant denied any claimed vested rights must file, in writing, a request for an appeal with the board of adjustment and appeals within ten days of the applicant's notification of the County Administrator or his or her designee decision.
- (2) Upon receipt of a timely filed appeal, the board of adjustment and appeals shall schedule and properly notice a public hearing to be held before the board of adjustment and appeals as soon as practicable.

- (3) At the public hearing, the board of adjustment and appeals may consider the record developed from subsections (a) and (b) of this section, as well as all testimony and evidence presented.
- (4) The board of adjustment and appeals shall make its determination based upon this record in light of the standards and factors outlined in subsections (b)(4)a. to (b)(4)c. of this section, and such other factors as the board of adjustment and appeals may deem relevant.
- (5) An applicant denied claimed vested rights may seek judicial review of the board of adjustment and appeals determination by timely filing an action in a court of competent jurisdiction.

Sec. 134-161. Divestiture of certain vested rights.

- (a) Whenever protection of the public's health or safety from new perils may so require, or upon a showing that a holder of vested development rights has failed to continue in good faith, the county administrator or designee, upon proper showing, may divest otherwise proper development rights. Divestiture under these circumstances may also apply to any certificates of concurrency issued for development proposed within the area affected.
- (b) Any change or modification to a development plan that is inconsistent with the county plan or would result in increased or greater development impacts sufficient to degrade a level of service below that provided for by the county plan creates a rebuttable presumption that the developments rights causing the impact are divested. Notwithstanding this provision, changes or modifications to development plans, orders or permits that are consistent with the county plan, and do not increase impacts or degrade a level of service provided for by the county plan, are presumed to retain any preexisting development rights so long as all other development review requirements are complied with.
- (c) Upon a finding that a holder of vested development rights has continued in good faith but has filed for an extension of time because of a failure to fully comply with time limitations associated with those rights, the county administrator or designee may grant reasonable extensions of time to exercise those development rights. Extensions of time up to six months may be issued..
- (d) Persons adversely affected by an alleged divestiture of development rights under subsection (a), (b) or (c) of this section may seek administrative review thereof through the procedures outlined in subsection (c), above.

SECTION 2. Chapter 138 of the Pinellas County Land Development Code is hereby amended as set forth below. This ordinance does not repeal and replace Chapter 138. The only section(s) of Chapter 138 being amended are those with revisions reflected herein. Sections of Chapter 138 not included herein remain in full force and effect.

CHAPTER 138

Sec. 138-64. - Development Review Committee (DRC).

(a) Establishment. The Development Review Committee (DRC) is hereby established to review and analyze certain development proposals in order to assist the applicant and ensure compliance with this Code and the Comprehensive Plan. The DRC is established to provide a more collaborative technical review and analysis of Site Plans, Type 2, Type 3, and Type 4 reviews. The DRC is also established to provide information and analysis to applicants, higher review authorities, and boards.

(b) Composition. The DRC shall be composed of designated county staff members.

(1) The Building and Development Review Services director or designee shall be a member of the DRC.

- (a) Purpose. There are situations that require flexibility to technical standards, dimensional standards, district design criteria, and/or specific use standards to respond to unique site conditions and/or existing conditions in the immediate vicinity. The waiver and administrative adjustment provisions are intended to allow an applicant to seek flexibility to certain code requirements and allow the county to administratively process and take action on said requests as a Type 1 review; the degree of the request will determine whether the application will follow a Path A or B review pursuant to subsection (d).
- (1) A waiver is an approved elimination of a particular technical standard based on a site constraint, and/or the ability to meet the intent by another means. Waivers generally have minimal or no impact on a neighboring property.
 - (2) An administrative adjustment is an approved adjustment or reduction to certain dimensional standards and/or technical requirements of the Code based on a site constraint, and/or the ability to meet the intent by another means. Administrative adjustments may have some impact on a neighboring property.
- (b) Administrative adjustments. Subject to the criteria and limitations of this division, the approval authority may grant the following administrative adjustments to the Code:
- (1) Zoning district dimensional requirements may be adjusted up to 20 percent; this may include adjustments to setbacks, building height, and building size. Building size is only applicable to accessory dwelling units and accessory residential structures.
 - (2) Parking and loading requirements may be adjusted subject the following limitations:
 - a. The minimum parking and/or loading quantity may be adjusted up to 20 percent or two stalls/spaces whichever is greater; this adjustment may not be permitted in addition to the other administrative reductions outlined in chapter 138, article X, division 2.
 - b. The minimum parking/loading dimensions may be adjusted up to 20 percent or two feet whichever is greater.
 - (3) Landscaping and tree preservation requirements may be adjusted up to 50 percent; this may include adjustments to plant quantity, plant size, buffer width, and location.
 - (4) Sign dimensional standards may be adjusted up to 20 percent; this is limited to adjustments to sign placement on the site and/or placement on a building.
 - (5) Fence requirements and limitations may be adjusted up to 20 percent or two feet whichever is greater; this is limited to adjustments to height, location, and size.
 - (6) Design criteria may be adjusted up to 20 percent; this is limited to adjustments to setbacks, building height, buffer width, façade treatment areas, and sidewalks.

- (7) Specific use standard(s) may be adjusted up to 20 percent; this is limited to adjustments to setbacks, building height, buffer width, façade treatment areas, and sidewalks.
 - (8) Roadway and transportation dimensional standards may be adjusted up to 20 percent; this is limited to adjustments to lane width, sidewalk widths, turnaround dimensions, and right-of-way widths.
 - (9) Stormwater design elements may be varied or adjusted to overcome site constraints or respond to existing development conditions in accordance with the Pinellas County Stormwater Manual. Stormwater dimensional requirements may be adjusted up to 20 percent.
 - (10) Construction standards and materials for sidewalks, roadways, driveways and similar elements may be varied and/or adjusted when alternative materials or methods are used that strengthen the district intent. Dimensional requirements may be adjusted up to 20 percent. Adjustments pertaining to ADA standards are not permitted.
- (c) Waivers allowed. Subject to the criteria and limitations of this division, the approval authority may grant the following waivers to the Code:
- (1) Site access standards and requirements may be waived to respond to site constraints and/or respond to existing development conditions.
 - (2) Sidewalk connections may be waived to respond to site constraints and/or respond to existing development conditions that would make the connections impractical or unsafe.
 - (3) Landscaping and buffering standards may be waived for specific areas on a site when other on-site vegetation is present and provides the same purpose. Landscaping standards may be waived for portions of a site to respond to government security and surveillance mandates.
 - (4) Construction elements for sidewalks, roadways, driveways, parking lots, and stormwater management facilities may be waived when comparable methods are proposed to meet the standard's original intent.
 - (5) Road frontage requirements may be waived so long as legal access is available. A waiver may be granted where roadway frontage constraints exist due to existing property configurations and the inability to combine with or connect to adjacent properties. The provisions of section 138-3503 shall be considered for road frontage waiver requests.
 - (6) Other similar technical standards as determined by the county administrator or designee. However, waivers pertaining to ADA standards are not permitted.
- (d) Waivers and administrative adjustment review. Waivers and administrative adjustments may be processed as a Type 1 review subject to the following:
