Proposals sought for mental health program grant

Local agencies that provide mental health or substance abuse programs for juveniles and adults could be eligible for the state grant that will be recommended through Pinellas County's Public Safety Coordinating Council.

The Florida Department of Children and Families is seeking applications for the Criminal Justice Mental Health and Substance Abuse Reinvestment Grant.

The grant provides funding to counties to implement or expand initiatives that increase public safety, avert increased spending on criminal and juvenile justice systems, and improve accessibility and effectiveness of treatment services for juveniles and adults with mental illness, substance abuse disorders, or co-occurring mental health and substance use disorders, and who are in, or at risk of, entering the criminal or juvenile justice systems.

One program will be selected by the Pinellas County Public Safety Coordinating Council to move forward.

N. Clearwater.

The Public Safety Coordinating Council meets quarterly with a mission to create and execute effective public safety strategy to ensure availability and accountability of programs, sound and efficient justice system operations, and necessary jail facilities. The council is made up of members of local and state criminal justice agencies, social service organizations and other local leaders with a member of the Pinellas County Board of County Commissioners serving as chairman.

The council, which was established by Florida statute, fulfills Pinellas County's strategic goal of ensuring public health, safety and welfare for residents.
