My husband is in a Pinellas County nursing home and I would like to know what the communication is between the county and nursing homes to determine if they have enough PPE equipment and what kind of testing is taking place with the staff of nursing homes. With the percentages of people aboard the Navy ship and aboard the Princess Cruise Line where 50 % tested positive though they were asymptomatic. I'm very concerned that Staffing in nursing homes is bound to include some asymptomatic infected people. With this important vulnerable population I would like to see the county proactive in testing and ensuring supplies are available.
