We recently visited Ft. DeSoto and noticed people on the beach with their dogs. We had seen a sign pointing us toward that dog beach area. This was the first time we visited from TN. We have two small Boston terriers. Suddenly, some woman walked toward us with her phone camera slinging her arm at us to move. She came within 3 Ft of my face and asked me, "Who do you think you are? The dog park is down the beach and you ruin it for people like us". She said she was on the Board and was reporting us and had us in film. I asked her who she thought she was speaking to me like that? She was a small blonde headed older lady in a bikini that was so rude I can't imagine who would want her on the Board. She then exchanged words with my husband! Not a good example for Florida!
