Subject: Mr. Anthony Colesanti's Complaint/Request Regarding Home Taxes

Good Morning,

Mr. Anthony Colesanti, resident of St. Petersburg called the morning of September 11th to express his disagreement toward the current taxable mileage rate on his home. Mr. Colesanti is a retired school teacher who now substitutes and has a primary residence in Long Island, NY. Mr. Colesanti has worked very hard throughout his life to purchase a second home in Pinellas County and would like to make it clear that it is difficult for the middle class to now afford homes. His taxes have gone up tremendously over the past years, now reaching $2,800. Mr. Colesanti has spoken to numerous County employees regarding this issue, including Mike Twitty and would like this message to be passed to the Commissioners and made public record for consideration before the new budget adoption.

Mr. Colesanti can be reached directly at (613) 332-9803

Good Morning,

Mr. Rufus Casey, resident of Clearwater, called the morning of 9/12 to express his disagreement toward the current taxable mileage rate on his home. Mr. Casey is a part-time resident of Pinellas County and would like to make it clear that he may have to sell his home due to a tax increase. His tax payment will be raised from the $4,300 he was charged last year to a proposed $4,800 this year. Mr. Casey would like to see a freeze of his tax rate in order to continue living in Pinellas County. He would like this message to be passed to the Commissioners and made public record for consideration before the new budget adoption.
