I work and live in Delightful Dunedin Iam a hair stylist trying to figure out when and if the salons get to reopen and what is going to be the protocol for them to reopen. I personally am very conflicted on all this. For one we don't have a vaccine and this is very contagious. I personally don't see how a stylist can safely work on a person. For one we all need to wear masks including the client. But even that doesn't stop but can slow the spread. We don't know where the client has been or if they have been following the protocol for this and vice versa. I am not so worried about myself getting this I am very concerned with getting this and then passing it on to those around me or bringing it home to my loved ones. So when do you think it'll be an appropriate time to safely open salons?
