Summary:

This Interlocal Agreement (Agreement) provides for the participation, funding and review of a study of potential joint-use facility sites in the downtown Clearwater area. The joint-use facility site study (Study) will determine the viability of the sites to support a facility to be used jointly by the City of Clearwater (City) and County.

Background Information:

This study will be a successor to a 2008 study of the technical feasibility of a joint-use facility. The 2008 study indicated there were potential cost savings associated with a joint-use facility.

The proposed joint-use facility is intended to house the City's Council, Mayor, City Manager's Office, City Clerk, City Attorney's Office, Economic Development and Communications departments, and the Community Redevelopment Agency. The County's portion of the building will include the County Commission, the County Attorney's Office, the County Administrator's Office, and the Tax Collector and Property Appraiser's offices. PSTA is a party to the Agreement based on ownership of a portion of one of the considered sites.

There are three sites in consideration: One, with property owned separately by the County and PSTA; one owned wholly by the City; and one owned wholly by the County.

Fiscal Impact:

The Study cost is $74,868.00, of which the County and City will equally split the cost. This expense is included in the FY19 Adopted Budget within the Real Estate Management Operating budget.
