Summary:

On February 25, 1995, the City entered into an interlocal agreement with Pinellas County to establish the City's planning area that includes the adjacent unincorporated areas in the City's comprehensive plan. The Planning Area Interlocal Agreement allows the City to annex properties within the established planning area and avoid the lengthy process of amending the comprehensive plan with Pinellas County in order for the City land use and zoning provisions to take effect. Additionally, the interlocal agreement establishes an intergovernmental coordination and cooperation with Pinellas County in the comprehensive transportation planning process to assure facilities will be properly located and developed in relation to the overall community development. The interlocal agreement expired on September 30, 2005. The City of Dunedin wishes to re-establish this agreement.

The proposed Planning Area Interlocal Agreement contains the standard provisions used for other existing interlocal agreements that establish municipal planning areas for the cities of Clearwater, Pinellas Park, Safety Harbor and Largo. The proposed planning area will remain unchanged since the initial interlocal agreement. The proposed term for the Planning Area Interlocal Agreement will be for 10 years. The attachment provides the draft interlocal agreement with exhibits to reflect the proposed planning area.
